Introduction

The principal objective of this book is to provide a printed genealogy for the family of William Stone (1608-1683). Previous to this time, two genealogies about his brother, John, were published. The first genealogy was titled "The Family Of John Stone", and it was written by William L. Stone, 2d and published in 1888. The second book was titled "Book II of The Family of John Stone", and it was published by Truman Lewis Stone in 1897. Both of these books only briefly discussed our subject's family. This book covers William's family in much greater detail. However, the first three generations of John Stone are included in Appendix one of this book for the concerned genealogist.

Major Geographical coverage is as follows.

Location:	From Circa:	To Circa:
Guilford, Conn.	1639	1740
Litchfield Co., Conn.	1730	1800
Bradford Co., Pa.	1800	Present
Minnehaha Co., S. D.	1870	Present

Many of the descendants are scattered about other areas of the United States. The reader can refer to the place index for specific locations.

A considerable portion of this book is devoted to the descendants of Edmund Stone who was Baptized in 1764 at New Milford, Connecticut and died in 1814 at Bridgewater, Susquehanna county, Pennsylvania. Edmund was an early pioneer of Bradford county, Pennsylvania, having settled there in 1803. His grandson, Edward Stanton Stone (1842-1894), was the progenitor of the Stone family of South Dakota. The latter can be considered a rather large branch of the family tree.

Since there was considerable inter-marriage between the Stone and Ingham families of Bradford county, Pennsylvania, a brief account of the Ingham family is included in Appendix four. Some of the poetic writings of Rebecca (Ingham) Stone are given throughout the text.

Canfield Stone, (1765-1836) and four generations of his descendants are also included. Canfield Resided in New Milford, Connecticut, and his family settled in Forest Lake township, Susquehanna county, Pennsylvania.

For those of you who are unaccustomed to reading genealogies, this book uses a common system that has developed through long usage. For example, if you see Philemon(Edmund^{6}, Ithiel^{5},Benajah^{4},Benajah^{3},Benajah^{2},William^{1}) this, interpreted, means that Philemon was the seventh generation in this country and that his father was Edmund, his grandfather was Ithiel, and so on. The book is referenced after an account of the children, and it includes a text book Bibliography. Some typical abbreviations and symbols used in the book are as follows.

m.	.....	Married
ch.	.....	Child/Children
d.	.....	died.
d.y.	.....	died young
%.	.....	divorced
+	.....	carried forward

In the compilation of this genealogy, many family members contributed freely of their time. Much credit for their efforts is due: Mrs. Norma Alink, Mrs. Mary Bardell, Dayton L. Birchard, Mrs. Charlotte S. Burr, Mrs. Zaidee Evans, Mrs. Patricia W. Goff, Mrs. Carl Johann, Mrs. Lawrence Kerwick, Mrs. Analee Kirkwood, Mrs. K. A. Manning, Mrs. Adel Schumacher, Mrs. Alexander Shaffer, Mrs. Helen Smith, Mrs. Ordella Smith, Eldon Stone, Philip P. Stone, Walter G. Stone, Wealtha Stone, William L. Stone, Mrs. Bonnie Wagner, Mrs. Helen Weniger, Richard L. Weniger. I also wish to credit my wife for typing.

While compiling and editing this data, it has been my sincere desire to avoid doing injustice to anyone, whether a member of the family or otherwise.

The compiler welcomes any corrections and/or additions regarding this family. This material will be saved in the event that a supplement is produced in the future.

In concluding, it is my hope that the descendants will be able to reassert themselves with their roots and establish new family ties. Since this is a growing family, it is my wish that the family members will enter their family records on the blank forms provided at the end of this book.

Rev. Samuel Stone, the head of the family treated herein was born in England. He was a Non-conformist Divine of Hereford (not Hertford), near Guildford, Surrey England on the River Wye.

Since he was a Non-Conformist, no record of his marriage or ancestry exists in English Parish Records. He is often confused with the Reverend Samuel Stone of Hertford, England, son of John Stone of Hertfordshire.

Children of Samuel and _____ Stone:

\+ 1 i. WILLIAM STONE, b. C 1608; d. 16 Nov. 1683; m. Hannah _____, b. _____; d. 1655. m/2 1659 Mary Hughes, widow of Richard Hughes.

ii. JOHN STONE, b. C 1610; d. Feb. 1687; m. Mary _____, b. _____; d. _____.

FIRST GENERATION

1. WILLIAM STONE, (Rev. Samuel) was born about 1608, at Hereford, near Guildford, Surrey, England, on the River Wye. He was a son of the Reverend Samuel, of Herefordshire, England.

William Stone, accompanied by his brother, John, sailed from England 30 May 1639 with the Reverend Henry Whitfield and others. When the ship was out to sea, William and all the others entered into a written agreement. This document has come down to us as the "Guilford Covenant", a copy of which is as follows.

"Guilford Covenant"

We whose names are here underwritten, intending by God's gracious permission to plant ourselves in New England, and if it may be, in the southerly part about Quinnipiack, do faithfully promise each, for ourselves and our families and those that belong to us, that we will, the Lord assisting us sit down and join ourselves together in one entire plantation and be helpful each to the other in any common work, according to every man's ability and as need shall require, and we promise not to desert or leave each other or the plantation, but with the consent of the rest, or the greater part of the company who have entered into this engagement. As to our gathering together in a church way and the choice of officers and members to be joined together in that way, we do refer ourselves, until such time, as it shall please God to settle us in our plantation. In witness whereof we subscribe our names, this first of June 1639.

Robert Kitchell	John Stone	Francis Chatfield
John Bishop	William Plane	William Halle
Francis Bushnell	Richard Gutritge	Thomas Naish
William Chittenden	John Hughes	Henry Kingsnorth
William Leete	William Dudley	Henry Doude
Thomas Jones	John Permely	Thomas Cooke
John Jurdon	John Mepham	Henry Whitfield
John Hoadly	Abraham Cruttenden
William Stone	Thomas Norton

In July the ship " St. John " entered the harbor of Quinnipack or New Haven. It was then decided that they would settle about halfway between two existing settlements at Menunkatuck. They purchased land from the Mohegan Sachem Uncas, and named it Guilford, after Guildford, England where many of them had lived. Before winter set in, this group had built dwellings and settled therein.

William Stone's home lot consisted of three (3) acres and twenty (20) rods on the east side of Fair Street, and he also owned a farm in Guilford. William was a tailor, and he also kept the first ordinary or tavern in Guilford.

Mr. Stone was accompanied by his first wife Hannah, when he came to America. She died in 1655. He then married in 1659 Mary, widow of Richard Hughes, of Guilford. He died 16 November 1683.

55. BENAJAH STONE (3),(Benajah[3],Benajah[2],William[1])second son of Benajah and Hannah (DeWolfe) Stone was born 25 September 1708, in Guilford, Connecticut. His early life was spent in Branford, Connecticut, and he later resided in Milford, Bethlehem, Woodbury and New Milford, same state which was his final residence. In February of 1742 he purchased for one hundred pounds approximately seventy acres of land in the north purchase of New Milford. In 1749 he purchased from Job Gould, of New Milford, one hundred and thirty acres of land with a dwelling house lying northeast of the Park Lane school house on the west side of the North and South Road. In 1913 this place was still known as the Old Stone Farm. Later, he purchased additional land in the same area, and in 1752 he expanded his land holdings by another seventy acres in the north purchase for two-hundred pounds. At the time of his death, he probably resided in New Milford. His estate was inventoried at one-thousand and fifty pounds,one shilling and two and one quarter pence. Just prior to his death, he had deeded considerable property to his children.

On 28 February 1730, Benajah married Mary Chittenden, daughter of Joseph and Mehitable Chittenden. The marriage was performed by Mr. Russell at Wallingford, Connecticut.

186. EDMUND STONE,(Ithiel^{5},Benajah^{4},Benajah^{3},Benajah^{2}, William^{1}) second son of Ithiel and Martha (Baldwin) Stone was baptized 15 November 1764, by the Reverend Thomas Davies in New Milford, Connecticut. Sometime prior to 1788, he married Susanna Hotchkiss, and in 1794 the family moved from Connecticut to Milton, near Ballston, Saratoga county, New York. Two years later, they removed to the town of Butternuts, Otsego county, New York, and also lived for a time at Delhi, Delaware county, New York. He suffered an unfortunate experience by the purchase of lands on which a secured title was unavailable, having paid for it in gold.

In 1803 Edmund removed to Wyalusing, above Cold Creek, in Pennsylvania. The family came in March with two or three teams having good sleighing throughout the trip. Mr. Stone purchased a log house there and a clearing of several acres from Peter Stevens. This family showed the same endurance typical of the pioneers already there before them.

Edmund and his wife, Susannah, joined the Merryall Presbyterian Church, and they are listed as members there on 5 June 1808. Susanna died circa 1809, perhaps on or after the birth of Almon, born 19 May 1809. He then married a Miss Fink or Frink and in 1809 removed to Bridgewater,Susquehanna county -- probably settling on the Kingsley farm.

A few years later when his wife was returning from a meeting at the south school-house, on horseback, a frightening experience occurred. A panther leaped for the child she held in her arms, but missing his mark he passed over the horse's head.

Mr. Stone was a man of deep-rooted religious convictions. On 3 July 1810 Edmund met with twelve others for the purpose of organizing the Congregational Church of Bridgewater,(presently the First Presbyterian Church of Montrose,Pennsylvania). The meeting was held at the house of Joseph Raynsford, about one and a half miles south of Montrose. It was organized under the direction of the Reverand Ebenezer Kingsbury, then a missionary of the Connecticut Missionary Society. Edmund's death was to be the first among these early members.

Edmund purchased land at Bridgewater, Susquehanna county. This land was bounded on the north by the lands of Joseph Wood, on the south by lands of John Bard, and on the west by lands of the heirs of Henry Drinker. The estimated area of this land was one hundred and thirty acres. Upon the settling of Edmund's estate, his land was sold to Daniel Taylor & Roswell Kingsley of Bridgewater for the sum of four hundred-twenty one dollars.

Edmund died intestate 27 March 1814 at Bridgewater, Susquehanna county Pennsylvania. His son Raphael served as administrator of the estate. Named in the estate papers in this order were: MIRANDA INGHAM, LUTHER STONE, LEMAN STONE, CALVIN STONE, SUSANNA STONE, WILLIAM STONE, HARRIET STONE, EDMUND STONE, ALMON STONE, HIRAM STONE, MARY ANN STONE--the nine last of whom were in their minority.

303. RAPHAEL STONE,(Edmund^{6},Ithiel^{5},Benajah^{4},Benajah^{3}, Benajah^{2},William^{1}) was born 17 April 1788, probably at New Milford, Connecticut, first son of Edmund and Susanna (Hotchkiss) Stone. He was married in 1809 to Sarah Ingham, daughter of Jonas and Elizabeth (Beaumont) Ingham. The family resided at Wyalusing, Bradford county, Pennsylvania.

He was also listed as a Private in the War of 1812, however, it is known that his brother, Philemon, served as a substitute for him. Raphael died on his birthday at the age of forty-four, in Stevensville, Bradford county, Pa. His wife died on 30 December 1829 at forty-three years of age, also on her birthday. Both are buried in the Stevensville, Pennsylvania Cemetery.

From the journal of Major Cyrus Avery, the following information was given.

Departed this life, at Wyalusing, Bradford Co, Pa. Mrs. Sarah Ingham Stone, in the 46th year of her age, The twenttieth of her marriage. She retired to rest, in about two hours after the advent of a daughter. She has left a beloved husband, and nine children, to whom she was a devoted mother, and many other relatives and friends who deeply deplore their irreparable loss.

The following lines were written by her much loved sister, Mrs. Rebecca Ingham Stone, who was favored with privilege of living near neighbour, and whose husband's were brothers---- Martin Luther Stone and Raphael.

O! have I lived to see this day.
What do I here behold;
My sister, yesterday in health,
Now, lifeless, pale, and cold.

My God! O-Help me to endure
This cruel, fatal stroke,
This recent unexpected loss.
Has near my spirit broke.

The morning sun, still rises fair
But gives a sickly light.
The moon shines clear to others eyes.
But seems to me less bright.

To me, all nature seems array'd
In sad, and sickening gloom,
And human excellence seems vain,
Fast hurrying to the tomb.

O! Sarah; it was yesterday,
We talked, of social cheer
And at thy husband's house, with joy
To greet the coming year.

Nor dost thou heed thy children's greif
Their agonizing tears,
Thy widowed husband's bitter pangs,
More intent and severe.

This is the hour when conscience wakes,
And brings the past to mind,
And asks us, if, to our friend deceased,
We have been ever kind.

If we have loved, she don't inquire,
For that, our tears can prove,
She only asks, how we've behaved
To those whom we have loved.

If, on a strict review, she finds
We have behaved amiss,
Death brings a pang, a bitter pang,
But not a sting like this.

If conscience smiles on this review,
Twill ease the troubled breast,
We've done our duty, all we could,
To Heaven, we leave the rest.

If ever from the realms of bliss,
Departed spirits roam
To comfort friends they've left behind
And cheer their joyless home.

O gentle mother, condescend
In nightly visions kind,
Thy children admonition give,
According to thy mind.

Tell them to teach thy little ones,
As thou would'st have them taught,

Alass; Tis New Year's day---but friends
Thou mayst no more behold,
They view thy face, with weeping eyes,
Enshrouded, pale, and cold.

Lovely in death, O what a sight;
Thy infant on thine arm,
Men view with tearful eyes thy face,
And women feel alarm.

Each relative of thee bereft;
Their separate loss bemoan,
While I, detached from other friends,
Can estimate my own.

For nameless sympathies of soul
Seen in a sister's eye,
Must to a stranger's careless gaze,
Pass unregarded by.

But thou art gone, thy prattling babes
Still climb their father's knee,
He sees their joy with secret sighs,
For 'tis unshared by thee,

But oh - shall time thy memory rase;
Thy virtues be forgot,
Oblivion's veil obsecure thy worth,
As oft is woman's lot?

No, friendship shall a record keep,
Which time shall not obscure,
So long as who knew thee live,
Thy memory will endure.

The above lines were suggested by the sister while viewing the beautiful, but inanimate faces of Mother and child.

She was married on 9 July 1809 in Wyalusing to John Ingham, son of Jonas and Elizabeth (Beaumont) Ingham.

The couple resided on a portion of his father's estate located above Camptown. In 1807 John brought the first set of Carding-Machines to this area from Cooperstown, New York. Without a doubt, he was the first manufacturer of window sash in northern Pennsylvania, if not in the state itself. He carried on blacksmithing and the making of edge tools. This was when iron was difficult to obtain having to be conveyed up the river from Marietta on Durham boats. The trip frequently requiring from three to four weeks. John Ingham was born 13 November 1784 and died 1 February 1863. Marinda died 7 June 1883.

305. MARTIN LUTHER STONE,(Edmund[6],Ithiel[5],Benajah[4], Benajah[3],Benajah[2],William[1]) was born in 1792, probably at New Milford, Connecticut. He was the second son of Edmund and Susannan (Hotchkiss) Stone. On 19 May 1817 at age twenty-five, he was married to Rebecca Ingham - then aged forty. Rebecca was born 23 December 1777, the daughter of Jonas and Elizabeth (Beaumont) Ingham.

The couple settled upon a farm in Herrick, and they are listed there on the appended assessment list of 1837. The couple adopted a daughter, and in the spring of 1847 they decided to accompany their daughter and son-in-law to Buffalo Grove, Ogle county, Illinois.

Buffalo Grove was called "Nanusha" by the Indians, the word meaning Buffalo. This grove was formerly a favorite resort of these animals. After the white settlers arrived, immense quantities of buffalo bones were found there, Hence the name Buffalo Grove. It is located near Polo, Illinois.

In 1850 Luther and Rebecca were residing in Buffalo township, Ogle county, Illinois with Ezra Broadwell born 1812, and Emeline Broadwell, born 1820. The Broadwell's had three children: REBECCA, born 1842, SMITH, born 1846 and Ervin, born 1849.

Rebecca was a remarkable woman, and she possessed considerable literary ability. It is worth while to include some of her poetic writings as follows.

This missive was addressed to Mrs. Stewart of Spring Hill Bradford Co., P. By Mrs. Rebecca I. Stone, who nursed her infant twin daughter two years, the death angel, having taken her baby. Mrs. Stewart decided to move to Vermont, wishing to take both of her babes with her, but Mrs. Stone persuaded her leave the one with her, by penning the following letter.

Dear mother, should your anxious thoughts
On your sweet infant dwell,
I send these lines to soothe your mind
and let you know I'm well.
The sacred trust you have reposed
Your fondness won't repent.
I have no wish to leave these friends.
For I am quite content.

Though now, I'm plump, and pretty grown.
In all my infant charms.
Think what a puny child I was,
When taken from your arms.

My size, required the tenderest care
from them, both night and day,
I now begin with baby smiles,
Their fondness to repay.

Had I, on cow's milk still been fed,
My life, it might have cost,
Then, to this world, a lovely girl,
Had been entirely lost.

This is the fate of many a twin,
And might perhaps, been mine,
As I was smallest of the two,
Dear Mother don't repine.

Or, would it greive you less,
To see my eyes forever closed,
Than in the arms of her, to whom
This trust you have reposed.

As She whose breast my life sustains
Had trials more severe,
Heaven took her babe, took all she had,
And Heaven has placed me here.

Then think how hard "twould be for her,
From whom she loves, to part
My every look, my every smile,
Is printed in her heart.

Her face to me is much endeared,
She seems indeed my Mother,
I stare, then part my lips and cry,
When taken by another.

But do not fear on this account,
You in affection loose me,
Nature's strong power will still prevail,
However kind they use me.

When opening reason rules my mind,
My Mother may believe me,
No vain attempt will then be made
In this point, to deceive me.

The claim of birth, is yours alone,
Can't be transfer'd to another,
Then will my youthful heart beat high,
To see my own dear mother.

Nor need my sweet twin sister, fear
I will neglect to claim her,
Soon as my pretty lips can speak,
I shall be taught to name her.

My father, brothers, sisters, all,
Will have their equal claim
"Twas for this reason, Mother Stone
Required of you their names.

Then, do not fear in any case,
She will ungenerous prove,
Or, form the silence of friends,
Let me forget their love.

And my relation in Vermont
Won't be in thought rejected,
From those who know them, I shall hear
The people well respected.

The sacred trust you have reposed
Your fondness will not repent,
I have no wish to leave these friends,
For I am quite content.

Rebecca's farewell to her brother John, who was absent from home when she departed to Buffalo Grove, Ogle Co., Illinois. After looking at his portrait, she penned the following lines.

Your portrait my brother, is still in it's place,
It is all I can now see of you,
"Tis painful to look on a dear kindred face,
To which, I must soon bid adieu.

But to you while surrounded with blessings of home,

"Twill be felt in a lesser degree
While I, among strangers, am destined to roam
Where but few, can have knowledge of me.

When I look on that farm, which was justly my own,
It's orchards and meadows in bloom,
Which I hoped to redeem, but that hope has long flown,
It seems like a march to the tomb.

The memory of past scenes still cling round my heart,
Tho, painful, I cannot dispel.
And faces endeared, from whom I must part,
And bid them,a final farewell.

Inghamtown, May 1845

Rebecca I. Stone's farewell to her niece, Harriet Ingham:

The tears my dear Harriet, from those tender eyes,
Which arise at the thought we must part,
Convey a deep feeling, you cannot disguise,
When nature prevails over art.

My, mind is o'ershadowed 'mid spring blossoms gay,
From you my dear niece, I am hastening away.
In that land, I shall never a sustitute find,
Though strangers may greet me with courtesy kind.

The warm glow of feeling, the look which was there,
From the face of a stranger, I never shall share.
My journey tho' long, if I live to get through,
In my dream, and my prayer, I shall still be with you,

Though abscent in person, you'll still bear in mind,
The Aunt who still loves you, but leaves you behind.

Inghamtown, May 1845

306. PHILEMON STONE,(Edmund^{6},Ithiel^{5},Benajah^{4},Benajah^{3}, Benajah^{2},William^{1})was born 5 July 1796, probably at Milton, near Ballston, Saratoga county, New York, third son of Edmund and Susanna (Hotchkiss) Stone. He resided at Wyalusing, Bradford county, Pennsylvania from 1814 to 1821. He also resided at Scipio, New York prior to his marriage.

From 2 November 1814 to 23 November 1814 he served as a Private in the War of 1812, being a member of the one hundredth and forty-forth Pennsylvania Militia under the command of Lieutenant Colonel James Montgomery. Actually, he served as a substitute for his brother, Raphael, for unknown reasons. He was married on 12 December 1823 to Fanny Noyes at Cortlandville, New York. The marriage was solemnized by a Baptist Clergyman - Alfred Bennett. After the marriage the couple resided at Scipio, and they were living there in 1830. Sometime prior to 1840, they removed to McLean, Tompkins county, New York.

Philemon stood approximately six feet tall, and he had a light complexion with brown hair and dark grey eyes. His good physical condition enabled him to work as a millwright for most of his life.

In 1840 he purchased from Walter and Emily Bullard, a plot of land in the town of Dryden on the east side of Fall Creek for the sum of five hundred dollars. Philemon also purchased from Edward Noyes another plot of land in the town of Dryden for the sum of twelve-hundred dollars. He resided at the latter location until the time of his death on 13 August 1879. His wife, Fanny, died shortly thereafter on 21 May 1880, and she is buried beside him at the McLean Cemetery.

307. CALVIN STONE,(Edmund^{6},Ithiel^{5},Benajah^{4},Benajah^{3}, Benajah^{2},William^{1}) was born 30 November 1796, in the state of New York, probably at Milton, fourth son of Edmund and Suanna (Hotchkiss) Stone. He was a lad of thirteen when his mother died circa 1809, and following the marriage of his eldest sister, Marinda, in the same year, he resided with her. About 1820 he purchased land in Herrick township, becoming one of the pioneer settlers there. Thereafter he developed a large farm where he lived until his death. Mr. Stone was one of the most successful and influential members of the community. By way of his well versed knowledge of the law, he was for many years justice of the peace. Two of his five years commissions bear the dates of 17 March 1840 and 10 February 1852.

He married on 28 October 1823 Betsy Lovitte Heywood.

formerly of Gardner, Mass. Betsy was born 5 January 1802 in Westminster, Massachusetts, and she died 1885. Calvin died at the homestead, 27 March 1869, and he was buried in the family lot at the East Herrick Cemetery. Betsy is buried beside her husband.

308. WILLIAM STONE,(Edmund^{6},Ithiel^{5},Benajah^{4},Benajah^{3}, Benajah^{2},William^{1}) was born 1799 at Butternuts, Otsego county or Delhi, Delaware county, New York. He was the fifth son of Edmund and Susanna (Hotchkiss) Stone. Mr. Stone became a millwright and in 1828 he married Eliza Ann DeWolf, (born 27 February 1810; died 24 March 1906) daughter of G. M. and Anna (Spaulding) DeWolf. After the marriage, he built a factory for making window sash by machinery, but after a few years at this endeavor resumed his trade. The couple then removed to Schoolcraft, Illinois and three years later were at Sterling, Illinois. At the latter location, he worked at his trade and his wife taught several terms of school. Nearby, at Elkhorn Grove, they purchased a nice home which they occupied for twenty years. William suffered from lung trouble, and therefore decided to remove to Iowa. In 1864 he came to Webster and in 1866 to Powhatan township, Pocahontas county. Here he had previously secured a homestead which he improved and occupied until his death at the age of eighty in 1877.

Mrs. Stone remained unmarried for the next thirteen years, and in 1890 she married Ingham Stone, a native of Pennsylvania, and nephew to her first husband, since both of the contracting parties were over eighty years of age, the wedding was most remarkable. Ingham Stone died at the age of eighty-eight on 5 January 1898.

In February, March and April 1900, when over ninety years of age, Eliza wrote three letters that appeared in the Rolfe Tribune. These letters gave sketches of family history, and appeals to the young to refrain from tobacco and alcohol. Few persons of her age had the ability nor the inclination to write as she did. On 24 March 1906 she died at ninety-six years of age. Eliza was most likely the oldest resident of Pocahontas county at the time of her decease.

The funeral services were held at the home of her nephew Mr. DeWolf, by the Rev. W. H. McEwene, pastor of the Rolfe Presbyterian Church. She was buried beside her first husband in the Powhatan Cemetery where a suitable reddish Granite monument is erected.

310. HARRIET STONE,(Edmund[6],Ithiel[5],Benajah[4],Benajah[3], Benajah[2],William[1]) was born in September 1804 at Wyalusing, Bradford county, Pennsylvania, third daughter of Edmund and Susanna (Hotchkiss) Stone. She married Jabez Elliott, born 21 November 1803, who was the son of Joseph and Deborah (Lewis) Elliot. Joseph Elliott was a Revolutionary Patriot and Indian fighter of some fame.

In the spring of 1776 Joseph was an orderly sargeant in the Revolution. It was Christmas Eve at Trenton, New Jersey, and he had been ordered to stand guard outside a large hotel. This duty was courageously performed, and during a subsequent search of the building, he discovered a Hessian officer of high rank whom he found hiding in a secluded closet. He brought about the surrender of the officer, and for this achievement he was personally rewarded with a sword by General George Washington. He later said,"This was the happiest and proudest moment of my life".

After Joseph's term of enlistment expired, he returned home and in the following spring he went to Wyoming. When the British and the Indians advanced upon Wyoming, he joined Captain Bidlack's Company which was in the Battle of July 3, 1778. During this battle, he was captured by the Indians.

He was taken to "Bloody Rock" with Lebbeus Hammond and many others. Here they saw many of their friends killed by a tomahawk in the hands of Queen Esther. Meanwhile, savages danced around this inhuman spectacle. While the Indians were distracted by the struggles of their robust captives, Elliot and Hammond managed to break loose from their captors. Hammond ran towards the mountains; Elliot ran towards the river. Both were pursued by three or four savages. Elliott was able to out distance the savages, and by the time he arrived at the river, he was fifty yards ahead of them. Observing that they were preparing to shoot him, he sank beneath the water for safety. However, when he surfaced, he was shot upon. He was hit in the shoulder by a bullet, inflicting a serious wound. with his wounded arm dangling by his side, he managed with his right arm to swim to the far shore. Here, he took shelter behind a tree to recover his breath. Although his wound bled profusely, he walked to Wilkes Barre where his wound was dressed.

Joseph died 31 March 1849 at Merryall in his ninety-fourth year, and he was buried with the bullet in his shoulder that he received while making his escape from -- "Bloody Rock".

Joseph first married Patience, daughter of Thomas Brown. On 18 October 1787, he married Deborah, daughter of Thomas and Mary Lewis. Their children were John, Rocelana, Mary, Lewis, Anna, Jabez who married Harriet Stone, Deborah, and Harry.

Child of Jabez and Harriet (Stone) Elliott:

i. ELIZABETH ELLIOTT, b. 1847; d. 1917; m. Elisha S. Keeler, b. 24 May 1847; d. 24 Apr. 1908.

312. ALMON STONE,(Edmund^{6},Ithiel^{5},Benajah^{4},Benajah^{3}, Benajah^{2},William^{1}) was born near Wyalusing, Pennsylvania on 19 May 1809, the seventh son of Edmund and Susanna (Hotchkiss) Stone. He was an infant when his mother, Susanna, died, and he was five years old when his father, Edmund,died.

Upon reaching manhood, Almon removed to Norwalk, Ohio. He was married to Maria Manahan by 1838 when she signed a Norwalk deed with him. Various land transactions are noted there as follows.

Huron County Deed Records, Recorder's Office, V. 14, P. 658 Old Series-Administrator of Agur Hoyt Estate to Almon Stone; sale of 1.665 acres in Sec. 3 of Norwalk township; sale made 1 Feb. 1838; recorded 15 Oct. 1838.

Vol. 16, P. 661 - Old Series - Almon and Maria Stone to Cortland L. Latimer; 1.665 acres in Sec. 3 of Norwalk township; sold 27 April 1838-deed recorded 15 Oct. 1838, Vol. 1, P. 12. New Series - Samuel Pennewell to Almon Stone, south half of lot 7 on west side of Mechanic Street in village of Norwalk for $350.00; 2 April 1849 Vol. 22, P. 623 Old Series

Almon and Maria Stone mortgaged the south half of lot 7 on Mechanic Street of Samuel Pennewell for $350.00; 21 April 1849. Vol. 1 P. 13 (New Series) Almon Stone sells to Stephen Fisk the south half of lot 7 on Mechanic Street in Norwalk; 21 August 1850 for $350.00.

Almon and his wife, Maria, resided in Norwalk township in 1840. One male child born 1835-1840 and one female child born 1835-1840 were residing in their household at the time.

Maria died at Norwalk Village on 23 September 1849, aged 42 years. She was buried in the Episcopal Church Cemetery on West Main Street in Norwalk. After her death, Almon resided with Joseph F. Cahoon and family in Norwalk township, Huron county and worked as a millwright.

Almon returned to Wyalusing, Pennsylvania, and on the first of May 1851 he was married to Hattie P. Ingham. She was the daughter of Benjamin P. and Lydia (Miller) Ingham of Sugar Run.

Hattie Ingham Stone was a lady of quiet and unassuming ways and enjoyed reading. She was well versed in the poetry of the period in which she lived, giving evidence of this fact by her own writing. We are fortunate in having the diary of Hattie passed down to us. In it she had written the following poem about Almon.

MY HUSBAND

There is a charm around me flung,
on which my last fond hopes are hung;
and there's a form far, far, too dear,
lingering beside me, and doth cheer
my every grief - my gentle guide, on thee each joy of earth is staid,
nor could it brighter have been made since thou art here joy doth prevade thy kindest look, and happy voice, oh how it bids my heart rejoice
no charm but one alone, tis thine, entwining round this heart of mine.

Hattie

Almon's occupation was primarily that of a millwright. He was a good craftsman, and this enabled him to construct the frame dwelling in which the family resided at Merryall.

During his life, he enjoyed hunting with his percussion musket-formerly a flintlock. This weapon has an attractive maple stock, and is complete with brass trigger guard and butt plate. Here again, it is fortunate that this heirloom has been passed down.

Like his father before him, Almon was a member of the "Merryall" Presbyterian Church. He is recorded there on 1 January 1870.

Almon Stone died on 15 January 1873, and his wife, Hattie died on 2 October 1888. Both are buried in the Merryall, Pa. Cemetery.

347. DUANE STONE,(Chauncey[7],Julius[6],Ithiel[5],Benajah[4], Benajah[3],Benajah[2],William[1]) second son of Chauncey Gileod And Amy (Wadhams) Stone was born 1 January 1835 at the Stone homestead in New Milford, Connecticut. This land was originally developed by his grandfather, Julius, and was passed down to his father Chauncey, who further improved it.

Duane received a district - school education, and at the age of nineteen he commenced teaching school. This was an occupation which he followed for several years. He later went to Jefferson, Kentucky where he was employed in a freight office for three years. He then returned to New Milford, Connecticut and bought the homestead. Mr. Stone expanded his land holdings and made various other improvements. In 1896 he had one of the finest set of farm buildings in the locality. Tobacco raising and cattle dealing were his principal sources of income. The breeding of fancy steers and oxen was an endeavor that he devoted considerable attention to. Our subject was a Republican in politics, and he served with ability in various town offices.

He was married on 7 May 1861 to Anna E. Hawley. She was the daughter of Benjamin and Emeline (Glover) Hawley.

Duane died in 1904; and his wife died on 3 March 1919. Both are buried in the Lower Merryall, Connecticut Cemetery.

350. GEORGE STONE,(Raphael[7],Edmund[6],Ithiel[5],Benajah[4], Benajah[3],Benajah[2],William[1]) was born 15 October 1811, second son of Raphael and Sarah (Ingham) Stone. He died unmarried in October of 1842.

Very little has come down to us about the life of George, however, upon his departure, his Aunt Rebecca (Ingham) Stone, wrote the following lines.

I little thought, when last we met,
That time had not in store,
A longer date for thee, dear George
That we should meet no more.

We hear the distant thunder roll,
We see the lightning flash,
Unmoved, 'til bursting o'er our heads
In loud tremendous crash.

We know we're mortals, still believe
We've little cause for fear
Though 'round our path death's arrows fly,
To us, he seems not near.
'Tis widely ordered thus, that each
Should still perform his part,
For did we know our dying hour,
The thought would chill the heart.

Yet, christian Faith and hope, when strong,
Can death's worst form defy,
'twere well did all possess such hope.
Since all are doomed to die.

No more beside the social hearth
Thy cheerful voice I hear,
Or see thy smiles in mirthful chat,
Between thy sisters dear.

Those sisters, in thy trying hours,
Watched thee, day and night,
And turned but to conceal their tears
Lest they should meet thy sight.

Two distant brothers, hastened home,
Who apprehend" thy fate,
One heard but thy last accents fall,
The other, came to late.

Thy other relatives and friends,
Used every art to save,
But unrelenting death had doomed
His victim for the grave,

But when, by memory's magic light,
Departed friends we see,
Though shut forever from our sight,
Dear George, we'll think of thee.

358. REV. WILLIAM RILEY STONE,(Philemon[7],Edmund[6],Ithiel[5], Benajah[4],Benajah[3],Benajah[2],William[1]) was born 8 October 1825 at Scipio, New York, first son of Philemon and Fanny (Noyes) Stone. As a young man, he worked as a shoemaker at McLean, New York,but later turned to religion and became a minister.

Reverend Stone led a life filled with marital bliss being married three times. His first marriage was to Sarah Turin, born 9 May 1826; died 17 February 1851. His second marriage was to Nancy J. Cole, born 3 August 1827; died 12 February 1856. The third marriage was at Cortland in 1860 when he was united with Aldoretta Tisdale, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Alonzo Tisdale.

He then removed to the Binghamton area and became the Pastor of the Maine Baptist Church. Rev. Stone was then called to become one of the early pastors of the Lestershire Baptist Church. Shortly after his arrival, he was taken ill and died at the home of his daughter Mrs. Fred L. Norton. His death occurred on 23 December 1891, and his wife died on 3 March 1908. The interment for both was made in the Cortland, New York Cemetery.

364. EDWARD STANTON STONE,(Philemon[7],Edmund[6],Ithiel[5], Benajah[4],Benajah[3],Benajah[2],William[1])was born 22 February 1842 at McLean, New York, third son of Philemon and Fanny (Noyes) Stone. In 1860, at the age of nineteen, he was still residing in McLean with his parents. The Civil War broke out, and on 22 November 1861, he enlisted in Company "C" Seventy-sixth Regiment, New York Volunteer Infantry. He gave a brave, faithfuland arduous service of three years and four months in the army of the Potomac. Upon returning home from the war, Mr. Stone became interested in the opportunities offered by the westward expansion, and he too decided to move west. On 17 January 1869, at Hart, Michigan, he was married to Miss Permelia Scramlin by the Rev. Byron L. Pratt. Thomas J. Ginn and Safflin J. Main were present for this occasion. Permelia was the daughter of John and Mary Scramlin, both of whom were of Pennsylvania Dutch extraction.

Edward stood "six feet three inches tall", and he had a light complexion with blue eyes. Like his forebears before him, he too was to follow the honorable pursuit of farming throughout his life.

In the spring of 1872, the family went further westward, and they filed for a homestead in section No. 52 SW¼ Red Rock Township No. 102, Range No. 47. They later took a timber claim in the same section-NE¼, and resided with his brother,Albert Stone, where Valley Springs is now located.

Later, the family moved again, this time residing at the Shepard place. Then in April of 1877, they moved onto the homestead.

After Frank and Jessie James robbed the bank at Northfield, Minnesota, Permelia witnessed them changing horses in the neighbor's pasture, The James boys were later captured in the bluffs by Canton, South Dakota. Like the other pioneers before them this family too endured the blizzards, crop-failures, grasshoppers and other hardships that were typical to the Dakota territory.

In the spring of 1887 Edward built a house on the timber claim which was still standing in 1941. It is believed that the lumber was hauled in by Ole Peterson on oxen from Sibley.

This land was sold to someone in Sioux Falls. The family then purchased approximately twenty acres on the west side of Valley Springs with Beaver Creek running about through the center of it. They moved to this place in 1891.

Edward S. Stone died there on 3 June 1894, and his wife, Permelia, died on 27 August 1918. Both are interred in the Valley Springs Cemetery.

365. ALBERT C. STONE,(Philemon[7],Edmund[6],Ithiel[5],Benajah[4], Benajah[3],Benajah[2],William[1]) was born 28 June 1844 at McLean, New York, fourth son of Philemon and Fanny (Noyes) Stone. Albert married Mary Crittenden sometime prior to 1867, and after the marriage he worked as a merchant in McLean until June of 1873. He then sold his land, and moved westward. The family settled at Valley Springs, South Dakota, and Albert established the first store there with P. E. Howe in the fall of 1873. He became the second postmaster there, and the post office was at his residence for a while, but was later moved to the store of Stone & Howe. Mary was very unhappy in South Dakota, and she soon persuaded her husband to return east. (It is said by the descendants that the family removed to Sparrows Point, Maryland for a while, before returning to McLean, New York.)

Shortly after their return to McLean, Albert purchased the new house formerly owned by Humphrey Williams. In February 1877 he opened a store in McLean with Lewis Cole as manager.

A large building known as "Lyceum Hall" was built on the east side of Union Street in Freeville, New York by Albert in 1876. This hall became the chief entertainment center of the village. Since Albert was proficient in Shakespearean works, he was frequently asked to speak there.

In the fall of 1883, Albert built the home on the west side of Union Street where he lived the rest of his life. He died on August 1926, and his wife, Mary, died on 26 February 1932. Both are buried in the Willow Glen Cemetery at Dryden, New York.

369. FRANK R. STONE,(Probably Almon^{7},Edmund^{6},Ithiel^{5}, Benajah^{4},Benajah^{3},Benajah^{2},William^{1}) was born 16 August 1844 at Norwalk, Ohio, the son of Edwin and Maria (Monahan) Stone. Frank moved from Norwalk, Ohio and at the age of sixteen he worked as an apprentice shoemaker for G. H. Hewit of Wyalusing, Pennsylvania.

On 8 August 1862, at Wyalusing, Frank enlisted in the Civil War. He was enrolled as a private in Company "A" one hundred and forty-first regiment. He took part in several famous battles at Fredericksburg, Chancellorville, Gettysburg and Mine Run. On 3 July 1863 at the battle of Gettysburg, He was severely wounded by a cannister ball. This injury rendered his leg virtually useless for the performance of manual labor.

During the service, he rose to the rank of Corporal. On 28 May 1865, at Bailey's Cross Roads, Virginia, he was granted an honorable discharge.

Our subject was a man of medium proportion being 5 foot-seven inches tall. His complexion was fair, and he had blue eyes and brown hair.

He was married in August of 1867 to Cornelia Wells daughter of Abel and Margaret Wells. Alma (Stone) Harris, aged nine years old at that time, was present at the festive occasion. Cornelia died nine months later on 24 May 1868 after giving birth to their son Mark V. Stone.

After the death of Cornelia, he removed to Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania. On 27 September 1871 at Wyoming, Pennsylvania, Frank was married to Kate Bergold by the minister H. H. Welles. She was born of German parents, the daughter of John and Barbara (Ippie) Bergold of Wilkes-Barre.

Frank became a wholesale merchant and dealer at 38 Public Square, Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania. Perry Elliot Stone worked for Frank during this period.

In 1880 and probably for the remainder of his life, Frank performed the useful occupation of carpenter.

In 1911 Frank moved to 75 Price Street, Kingston, where he was to reside the remainder of his life. He died on 31 December 1914, and his wife, Katy, died on 19 November 1933. Both are buried in the Mount Greenwood Cemetery in Trucksville, Pennsylvania.

Letter written by Perry Stone, dated Aug. 1879 from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., to mother and sisters at Merryall, Pa.

Letter from Mrs. Alexander Shaffer (daughter of Charles E. Stone.)

My father (Claude Almon Stone) referred to children of Frank R. and Kate (Bergold) Stone as cousins.

Edwinna (Stienbeck) Overfield referred to Kate (Bergold) Stone as "AUNT"-- based on conversation with my Aunt-Helen (Stone) Smith.

372. SARAH EDWINNA STONE, (Almon[7], Edmund[6], Ithiel[5], Benajah[4], Benajah[3], Benajah[2], William[1]) was born 23 October 1860 at Merryall, Pennsylvania, second daughter of Almon and Hattie (Ingham) Stone. She was married on 12 September 1883 to Charles Miner Stalford who was born 13 May 1859, the son of J. T. and Minerva (Pickett) Stalford. Charles died 3 March 1912 and Sarah died 7 February 1938 at the home of her daughter in Horseheads, New York. Both are buried in the Wyalusing, Pennsylvania cemetery.

Children of Charles and Sarah E. (Stone) Stalford:

373. PERRY ELLIOT STONE, (Almon[7], Edmund[6], Ithiel[5], Benajah[4], Benajah[3], Benajah[2], William[1]) was born 18 December 1863 at Wyalusing, Pennsylvania, the only son of Almon and Hattie (Ingham) Stone. Perry was raised in the home that his father, Almon, had built. (This house is located in Merryall off of Rt-706 just after the entrance to Turkey Path on the left.) At the age of sixteen, he was working for his probable half brother, Frank R. Stone, a merchant, of 38 Public Square, Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania. Mr. Stone returned to Wyalusing, and on 28 October 1885 he was married to Mary Frank Snover, daughter of John Frank and Polly (Towner) Snover. The family settled on a farm near the present day Merryall Campground. In circa 1908 they lived at Curtis Street in Pittston, Pennsylvania. In later years, the family moved to the home where William McNally now resides.

Perry liked the outdoor life, enjoying hunting and fishing. His son, Claude, was a frequent companion during these excursions. Perry occasionally spoke of being the seventh son of a seventh son. This is born out by the fact that Almon was a seventh son. Perhaps, Almon had a total of seven children and perry was the seventh child.

In the early part of his life, Perry worked as a dairy farmer. However, in later years his health declined causing him to engage in lighter farming. He died on 5 November 1928, and his wife, Mary, died on 3 September 1946. Both are buried in the Merryall Cemetery.

Children of Perry and Mary F. (Snover) Stone:

+ 466 i. CLAUDE ALMON STONE, b. 7 Jan. 1891; d. 30 Sept. 1961; m/1 Ethel Devereaux, b. 26 Oct. 1900; d. 19 Jan. 1935; m/2,5 Dec. 1936 Mary Ann Krynak b. 17 June 1912.

444. GRANT HOWARD STONE,(Edward Stanton[8],Philemon[7], Edmund[6],Ithiel[5],Benajah[4],Benajah[3],Benajah[2],William[1]) was born 4 July 1876 on a homestead north of Valley Springs, South Dakota. He was the second son and fourth child of Edward and Permelia (Scramlin) Stone. Grant spent his boyhood days on a timber claim, and as a young man entered the Spanish American War where he saw action in the Phillipines. Shortly after he was discharged from the service, on 3 April 1902, he was married to Mae Elizabeth Hunt. They resided in Sioux Falls for a year, and later they moved to a farm near Hartford, South Dakota. In 1908 they settled on a claim south of Fort Pierre, South Dakota. In 1917, they again moved, this time settling near Gary, South Dakota. About 1944 they went into the State Soldiers home at Hot Springs, South Dakota where he died at Battle Mountain on 1 January 1947. He was buried at Hillside cemetery at Gary, South Dakota. His wife, Mae, remained at the home and she was married to Frank Fuller. The latter couple resided at the home until he died six months later. Mae then moved to Tuba City, Arizona to reside with her daughter, Wealtha, and this was where she died on 26 December 1959. She was buried beside her husband at Gary, South Dakota.

466. CLAUDE ALMON STONE,(Perry[8],Almon[7],Edmund[6],Ithiel[5], Benajah[4],Benajah[3],Benajah[2],William[1]) first and only son of Perry and Mary (Snover) Stone was born on 7 January 1891 at Merryall, Pennsylvania. His boyhood days were spent at Merryall, Pennsylvania where he received only an eighth grade education. At an early age, he began working as a salesman for the Magic Yeast Company. In this position, he traveled through twenty-seven states on the eastern seaboard, frequently sending postcards and presents to his family. On 1 April 1918, he enlisted in the army, serving in the Medical Corp until 28 March 1919, at which time he was given an honorable discharge. After his return from the service, he worked as a salesman for the National Biscuit Company. He soon married Ethel Devereaux of New York City, and he later settled at eight-six Church Street, Kingston, Pennsylvania, which was to be his final residence. Ethel died on 19 January 1935, and on 5 December 1936 Claude was married to Mary Ann Krynak, daughter of John and Susanna (Shedlock) Krynak of Swoyerville, Pennsylvania.

John Krynak was born in 1881 in Hungary, the son of Andrew and Anna Krynak. Susan was born in March of 1883 in Austria, The daughter of Andrew and Mary Shedlock. The couple were married in 1904, and in 1906 John emigrated to the United States. Mr Krynak obtained employment with the railroad in Taylor, Pennsylvania. He diligently saved his money and nine months later sent for his wife. They settled in Swoyerville, Pennsylvania and raised two children: Mary, mentioned above, and John (Kronick), a retired N.C.R. sales executive now residing at Riviera Beach, Florida.

About 1939 Claude left the National Biscuit Company and joined Carr Consolidated Company, of Wilkes Barre, Pennsylvania. He continued working for Carr Consolidated Company until circa 1955 at which time the company went out of business forcing Claude to retire. Also stricken with several physical ailments at this time, but not bedridden, Claude occupied most of his time reading and doing chores around the house. On 30 September 1961 Claude suffered a final heart attack, and he died in the Veterans Hospital, Wilkes Barre, Pennsylvania. He was buried in the Merryall Cemetery, near Camptown, Pennsylvania.

534. PAUL H. STONE,(Harry D.[9],Albert C.[8],Philemon[7], Edmund[6],Ithiel[5],Benajah[4],Benajah[3],Benajah[2],William[1])was born circa 1902, first son of Harry D. and Mable (Hovey) Stone. Paul was born and raised in Syracuse, New York. He was a graduate of Syracuse University where he had studied art. At age twenty-three, he moved to New York city where he became a free lance artist until being drafted into World War II. During World War II he taught aerial photography at Denver, Colorado. After the service, he gained employment as a technical illustrator for McGraw Hill of New York city. He remained in the latter position until the time of his retirement in 1967.

Mr. Stone first married at Syracuse, New York, Frances Stoner, who was from Lead, South Dakota. He was divorced from her circa 1938, and remarried to Marian ____, who was a school teacher in the Bronx most of her life.

535. WALTER G. STONE,(Harry D.[9],Albert C.[8],Philemon[7], Edmund[6],Ithiel[5],Benajah[4],Benajah[3],Benajah[2],William[1])was born circa 1907 at Syracuse, New York, second son of Harry D. and Mabel (Hovey) Stone.

Walter attended schools in his native county, and he left school in his senior year of high school to seek employment. For a time, he went to Florida and worked at odd jobs, but later returned to Syracuse, New York to work for Neal and Hyde for five years. In 1939 he purchased his own retail store in Phoenix, New York and also worked as a salesman in his spare time. In 1965 he purchased a store in Afton, New York which was run by his son Paul. He retired to Florida in 1972.

Walter first married in 1939, Sarah Jessey by whom he had one son. The couple were divorced circa 1960, and Walter married Nancy Cutter in 1966.

544. EDWARD PERRY STONE,(Claude Almon[9],Perry E.[8],Almon[7], Edmund[6],Ithiel[5],Benajah[4],Benajah[3],Benajah[2],William[1]) only son of Claude Almon and Mary (Krynak) Stone was born 11 April 1938 at Kingston, Pennsylvania. His boyhood days were spent at Kingston, Pennsylvania where he attended the Church Street Elementery School and was graduated from Kingston High School in June of 1956.

Mr. Stone worked for the Acme Markets until he entered the army for six months service on 5 October 1956. He received basic training at Fort Knox, Kentucky and later was transferred to Fort Gordon, Georgia to the Field Radio repair school.

After being discharged from the service on 5 April 1957, Mr. Stone soon found that employment opportunities in the Wyoming Valley were rather bleak without further specialized training. He then obtained part-time employment, and studied mathematics at Penn. State Extension while simultaneously studying machine drafting and tool design with the American Technical School.

In March of 1959, Mr. Stone left the Wyoming Valley, and subsequently began his machine drafting and design career with Beel Engineering of Newark, New Jersey and later Wallace and Tiernan of Belleville, New Jersey.

Mr. Stone disliked the racial and commuting problems of city life, and in the fall of 1959 he returned to Wyoming Valley, Pennsylvania. He then obtained employment as a machine draftsman with the Atlas Chain Company of West Pittston. He worked at this position until April of 1961, at which time he resigned to work as a sub-contract designer.

As a sub-contract machine and tool designer, Mr. Stone worked with various firms such as I.B.M. of Endicott, New York, Corning Glass of Corning, New York; Weston Instruments of Scranton, Pennsylvania and Smith-Corona of Cortland, New York. Approximately four years (Oct. 1961 - Oct. 1965) were spent at the I.B.M. manufacturing research center in Endicott, New York.

By September of 1967, Mr. Stone had grown tired of moving about, and he obtained direct employment as a production machinery designer with Smith-Corona of Cortland, New York in their machinery development department. He designed component assembly and automatic spring insertion machinery for them, and four years later was promoted to supervisor of machinery development, which is his current position.

Two years after coming to Cortland, Mr. Stone was married to Constance Barbara Reiss. She was the daughter of John Mendoza and Clarice Erma (Campbell) Reiss. John was born in St. Miguel in the Azores, Portugal, the son of John Mendoza and Mary (Perry) Reiss. Clarice was born 25 September 1907 at Somerville, Massachusetts, the daughter of Herbert Everett and Charlotte Mae (Robinson) Campbell. Both the Campbells and the Robinsons were of Old Maine, Massachusetts and New Hampshire families.

Connie was previously married to Joseph Ephraim Morrison whom she was divorced from on 21 December 1965 at Somerville, Middlesex county, Massachusetts. by this marriage their were two children: Dennis Edwin, born 9 April 1960; currently in the U.S. Army in Germany, and Joseph Daniel (Danny) born 29 September 1963. After her marriage to Mr. Stone, both of these children were raised in the Stone household.

Edward Jr. and Keith Alan Stone have come to the marriage of Edward and Connie. Eddie likes to swim and fish and is scientifically inclined; Keith is an extrovert and likes math and music.

In 1968, Mr. Stone purchased a run-down farmhouse with approximately three acres of land on the McGraw-Solon line on Route 41. He personally remodeled this house, and in May of 1970 sold it for twice the money paid. Mr. Stone then purchased an old victorian style house at 8 Duane Street, Cortland. This residence was sold in August of 1976 and the family then moved to 19 Louise Street, Cortland, New York -- their current residence.

Mr. Stone's life has always been one of self improvement. He has taken and completed correspondence courses with the National Radio Institute of Washington, D. C. and the International Correspondence School of Scranton, Pennsylvania. Much of his spare time has also been spent at the Tompkins-Cortland Community College in the pursuit of knowledge.

Our subject enjoys genealogical research, and in 1976 completed a brief genealogy of the "SNOVER" family. The publication you are reading is the result of his most recent efforts.

568. PAUL STONE,(Walter G.[10],Harry D.[9],Albert C.[8], Philemon[7],Edmund[6],Ithiel[5],Benajah[4],Benajah[3],Benajah[2], William[1]) was born circa 1940, only son of Walter G. and Sarah (Jessey) Stone. He worked in his father's retail business in Afton, New York in 1975. His plans at that time were to move to Daytona Beach, Florida and enter the amusement business.

Mr. Stone was a member of the Army Reserve, and he was sent to Germany during the Kennedy administration. He was active in the Afton Fire department, and worked as an ambulance driver. He married Joann Detrick of Syracuse, New York.

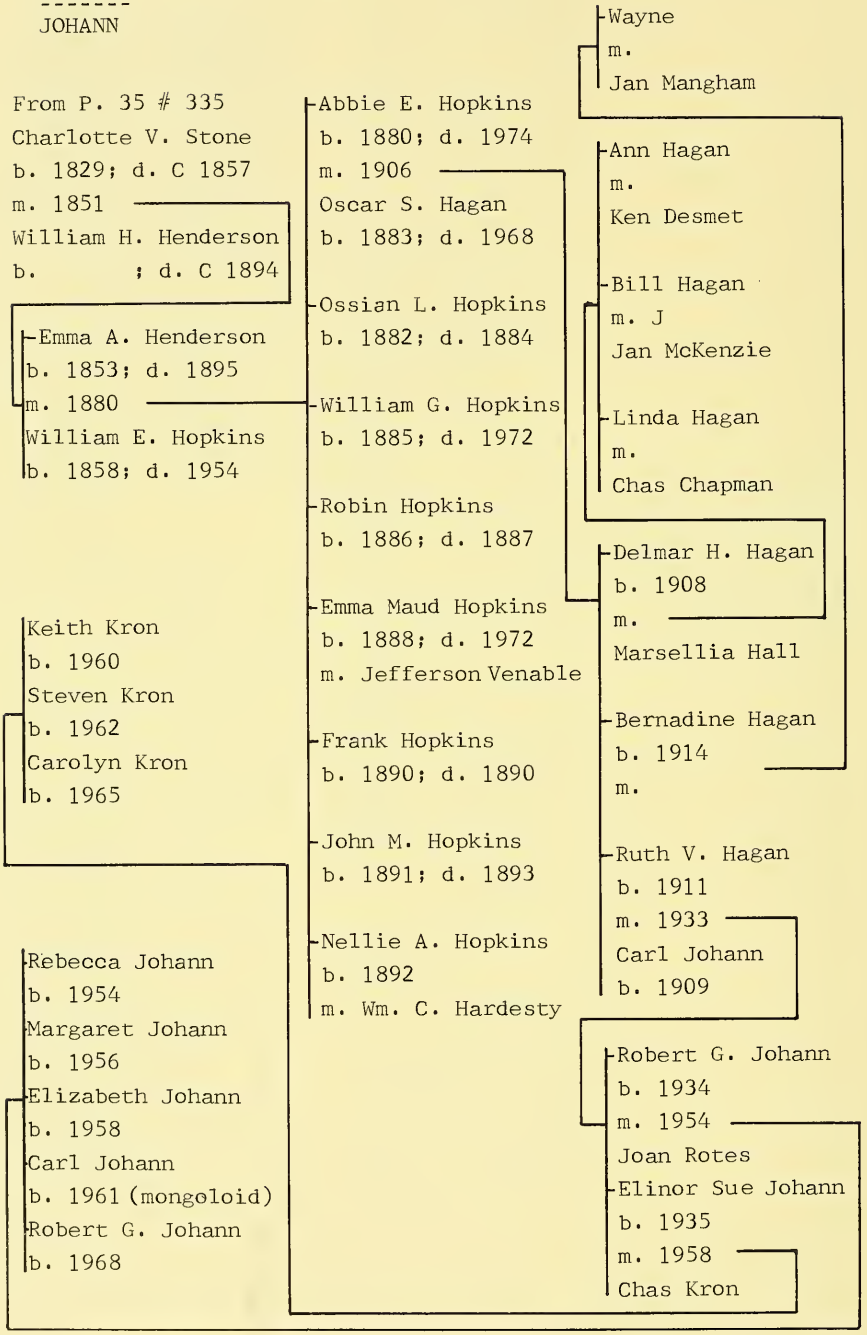
HAGAN

JOHANN



APPENDIX IV

1. JONAS INGHAM, was born 1666 in England. His parentage is unknown. He went to Trenton about 1705, and then to Solebury in 1730. Jonas established a fulling mill, ie., a cloth factory, at the Great Spring the Indians called Aquetong. It is located near New Hope, Pennsylvania.

Mr. Ingham was married to Elizabeth Woodhouse Burcham in February 1710. Elizabeth was born 18 February 1680 and died in 1747. She was the daughter of Anthony and Frances Woodhouse and was widowed from James Burcham in 1709. She died in 1747, and he died at Kingwood, New Jersey in 1754. His estate included a great Bible and other books. His will was dated 23 June 1754, and it was proved 24 December 1754.

Children of Jonas & Elizabeth (Woodhouse) Ingham:

\+ 2 i. JONATHAN INGHAM, b. 1710; d. 1799; m. 1735 Deborah Bye, b. 1709.

3 ii. ELIZABETH INGHAM, b. 1722; d. 1797; m. Joshua Waterhouse, b. 1705; d. 1772.

4 iii. MARY INGHAM, b. 1723; d. ___; m. 1742 Hezekiah Bye, b. 1717; d. 1790.

5 iv. JONAS INGHAM,II, b. _____; Nothing Known.

2. JONATHAN INGHAM,(Jonas) was born in 1710 at Trenton, New Jersey, first son of Jonas and Elizabeth (Woodhouse) Ingham. He inherited his father's estate at Solebury which included the fulling mill at Aquetong.

He was married to Deborah Bye. She was the daughter of John Bye of Solebury. Her brother, Hezekiah Bye, married his (Jonathan Ingham's) sister, Mary.

Jonathan was a Quaker, and he did not belong to the old Aristocracy which governed Bucks county at the time,however, his intelligence placed him in their society. He was made a Justice of the peace, a Judge of Bucks county, and a member of the assembly. He died in 1799.

Children of Jonathan and Deborah (Bye) Ingham:

6 i. JOHN INGHAM, b. 1738; d. 1772; A Friends Minister; d. unm.

10 v. MARY INGHAM, b. 1748; d. ____; m. Joseph Jenks. b. 1743; d. 1820.

9. JONAS INGHAM,(Jonathan^{2},Jonas^{1}) was born 1746 in Bucks county, Pennsylvania, third son of Jonathan and Deborah (Bye) Ingham. He was married to Elizabeth Beaumont on 3 January 1771. She was born 14 November 1753.

Upon the outbreak of the Revolution, Jonas went against the Quaker principles of his family and enlisted in the continental army. He rose through the ranks to become a Captain of the fourth battalion.

After the war, Jonas purchased lands near the Delaware where he built a fulling mill.

Mr. Ingham became interested in the Connecticut lands along the Susquehanna, and in 1789 he traveled up the river to Wyalusing. At Wyalusing he met a man named Kingsley who was willing to let him stay the night to look around. Kingsley led Jonas up the Wyalusing Creek about six miles where he showed him some choice land. Jonas liked the location, and he purchased six hundred acres.

Mr. Ingham had left his wife and family back in Bucks county where she had a farm and home given to her by her father. Jonas returned to his family once a year, and he later built a home for them in Stevensville. He built a woolen mill, and being an innovative mechanic invented the machine for shearing cloth which later came into common usage. He was an able writer and public speaker an in 1804 was elected to the legislature.

He died suddenly on 28 October 1820 at Bloomsburg, New Jersey, while there on business. He wife, Elizabeth, died 14 March 1814.

Letter, dated 25 March 1980, from Philip P. Stone.

1. HOMER BISHOP STONE, (Dr. Noah[6], Elihu[5], Jehiel[4], William[3], William[2], William[1]) was born in 1808 at Litchfield, Connecticut, a son of Dr. Noah and Sybil (Landon) Stone. Dr. Noah was born 3 December 1769 and died 25 December 1837. His wife, Sybil, was born in 1772 and died 31 November 1850. Both are buried in the Bantam Burial Ground. On 2 March 1828 Homer was united in marriage to Lucy Linsley of Litchfield, by Enos Stoddard, J.P.

In 1838 Homer and family, consisting of his wife and three children, left Connecticut. They moved westward through New York and Detroit, Michigan, eventually settling in Mahaska county, Iowa. The family resided there as late as 1860, and Mr. Stone worked as a wagon maker. Later they removed to Des Moines to reside near their daughter, Hester.

Homer died on 6 January 1896 at Des Moines, Iowa and his wife, Lucy, died 24 December 1895.

3. WILBUR FISK STONE was born 28 December 1833 at Litchfield, Connecticut second son of Homer B. and Lucy (Linsley) Stone. His family moved westward, and his boyhood days were spent successively in New York, Michigan, Indiana and Iowa. He obtained the A.B. degree at Indiana in 1857 and the L.L.B. degree in 1858.

Mr. Stone removed to Colorado, and he was elected a member of the legislature in 1862 and 1864. In 1862-66 our subject served as Assistant United States District Attorney.

During the winter of 1865-66, he returned to Indiana, and in February 1866 he was joined in marriage to Sarah Sadler of Bloomington. The couple then returned to Colorado, settling at Pueblo.

In October of 1877, Mr. Stone was nominated and elected to the state supreme court remaining in that capacity until January 1886. He further distinguished himself by the manner in which he handled the famous Peralta case. The later case involved twelve million acres of land in Arizona and the claim was proved to be fraudulent.

During the last five years of his life, he served as the United States Commissioner in the Federal District Court at Denver. Mr. Stone was consulting editor for a large four volumn work---The History Of Colorado published in 1918. He died 27 December 1920 at Denver, Colorado.
